Project Summary

Changing Young Lives Foundation (CYLF) offers diverse multi-intelligence workshops to underprivileged children and youths in our learning centre throughout the year. Many participants have excelled in various areas including dance, music, sports, art or science. 'High Flyers' Scheme aims to provide advanced talent development training to these students with potentials and motivation and to offer scholarships to support them to attend professional examinations and competitions. The support is important and helpful to these children and youths to advance their skills and qualifications, at the same time to expand their exposures and enhance their competitiveness in the society and sense of self-efficacy.

A Overall Project Descriptions

■ Rationale

Every child has dreams. They also have potentials to develop different skills and knowledge to realize their dreams. It is very important for them to get opportunities of accessing these skills and knowledge.

However, not every child's dreams will come true. The young people from under-resourced families do not have the chance to develop healthy hobbies and potentials. They lack the chance to touch their dreams only because of their financial background. This will trap them in the low class and influence their upward mobility.

CYLF already provides multi-intelligence workshops for these underprivileged young people. We witness a number of them who participate in the workshops have developed their talents. Some of them have potentials to advance in skills and knowledge. 'High Flyers' Scheme is proposed as these young people are strongly encouraged to further develop their talents and get closer to their dreams. This is our mission to identify children with different potentials and give opportunity to develop their talents and change their lives.

This scheme is beneficial for these children and youths not only to advance their skills and qualifications, but also to expand their exposures and enhance their competitiveness in the society and sense of self-efficacy. We believe that the sponsorship could help them to realize their dreams and have a bright future with thankfulness. In the future, they will be willing to contribute more to the community and society.

■ Target Service Users

- Low income and CSSA families

C. Past successful case of 'High Flyers' Scheme

The children and youths who join the CYLF's multi-intelligence workshops are making achievements. One of the successful cases is from Po Shan. Po Shan is a diligent and talented girl in learning Ballet. She started learning ballet in our centre in 2011 (age 7) and was spotted by our instructor in 2013 to receive more training. She achieved 'Distinction' in the Grade 4 Ballet Examination in 2014 and also attended some public competitions with awards. The scholarship supported Po Shan's advance class fee while she had at least 2 lessons per week and she also made use of the sponsorship to apply for examinations and other competitions. In late 2017, Po Shan attended Level 3 Certificate in Vocational Graded Examination in Dance: Grade Intermediate (Ballet) and passed with Merit. She also participated in 10th Young Ballet Stars Award Competitions and Hong Kong Challenge Cup Dance Competition.

Po Shan comes from low-income family, her father has a steady occupation while her mother works part-time job occasionally in order to take care of three daughters. Po Shan is the second daughter; together with her elder sister, they will have to take care of the younger sister. Po Shan and her parents had worries when they needed to decide whether to receive extra advance lessons, because they will have to spare a lot of resources on lesson fee, costumes, travelling fees, application fees etc. The High Flyers scholarship would very much ease their burden and help a young lady to achieve her dream with determination.
